

Undergraduate and Graduate Student Positions with Rutgers Climate Institute Beginning Spring Semester 2017

Rutgers Climate Institute is looking for both a highly motivated Rutgers undergraduate and Rutgers graduate student to fulfill hourly positions beginning Spring Semester 2017. Ideal candidates will be available to work through the academic year 2017-2018. These positions center on developing website, social media and promotional content; website and social media maintenance; assistance with events and some research.

Applicants should demonstrate excellent writing and organizational skills and keen attention to detail. Proficiency with JOOMLA Content Management System or demonstrated ability to pick it up quickly is a plus. Salary commensurate with Rutgers student rates.

To apply submit a resume (please identify two references) and a writing sample via email by 5 pm December 20, 2016 to Marjorie Kaplan, Associate Director, Rutgers Climate Institute (email: kaplan@envsci.rutgers.edu)